About us

Fresh Produce Group is one of Australia's largest and most innovative fresh produce providers. With offices on the east and west coast of Australia, we employ over 200 people and distribute more than 40 produce categories. We thrive on promoting a passionate work culture and reward employees with development opportunities and competitive remuneration.

About the role

An opportunity has arisen to join our Technical Team as a Product Technologist. In this role you will be responsible for supply chain technical management of product categories and reporting to key internal and external stakeholders.

Some key responsibilities of this role include:

- Establishing strong technical relationships with customers and suppliers
- Identifying and assessing supply chain risks and implementing risk minimisation strategies
- Advising FPG management on innovation and potential new technology deployment
- Providing biosecurity/market access analysis and logistics systems support
- Contributing technical elements to new product development

About you

We are looking for someone who has a passion for fresh produce and is seeking an opportunity to both deploy and advance their technical capabilities in this exciting and fast paced industry. This role will enable you the opportunity to elevate your career skills and professional profile. To apply for this position we are looking for the following:

Essential

- Relevant tertiary qualifications (e.g. horticulture/agriculture degree)
- Experience in fresh produce supply chain quality assessment and postharvest management
- Outstanding written and verbal communication skills
- Outstanding attention to detail
- Must be able to undertake national and international travel
- Intermediate computer skills

Desirable

- Experience in developing fresh produce supply chain Quality Assurance systems
- Experience in a Product Technology related role

This is a great opportunity for someone to exercise all their skills in a supportive team and work in a leading business that is innovative, energetic and can provide you with genuine career development.
